

BOYLE NAMED FOR INDUSTRIAL BOARD

Defeated Candidate for Borough President Gets Seat of Late John Mitchell.

ALSO IS MADE CHAIRMAN

Luce May Go to Court of Appeals and Moran Become Bronx County Clerk.

Edward F. Boyle, defeated Tammany candidate for President of the Borough of Manhattan, was appointed a member of the State Industrial Commission by Gov. Smith yesterday to succeed the late John Mitchell. He was designated also as chairman of the commission, a place held by Commissioner Mitchell.

The unexpired term is up on March 20, 1922, but it is understood that the Governor has in mind naming Mr. Boyle for a full term of six years on January 1. This could be accomplished by having him resign to accept an appointment to succeed Edward Lyon of Rochester, whose term expires at that time. An up-State man probably would be named to fill out the two year and three months remainder of the Mitchell term.

It is suggested, however, that the Republican Senate, which must confirm the Boyle appointment, may balk at consenting to his taking the place of Mr. Lyon, who is said to be a tacit understanding exists that it should go to a Republican. The Legislature passed a law last winter providing that not more than three persons of the same political faith should serve on the commission at the same time.

An Industrial Commissioner Mr. Boyle will receive $8,000 a year, the same salary he was getting on the Municipal Court bench in the Fourth district and $500 more than he would have received as President of the Borough of Manhattan. Friends of Mr. Boyle assert that he would much prefer the seat in the Industrial Commission to being Borough President and that he was persuaded to run for the latter office against his will. An impression prevails that when he was drafted as the candidate he was practically assured that he could have John Mitchell's place in case he were defeated for Borough President.

Mr. Boyle, who under the charter was elected by the Aldermen from Manhattan to serve until January 1 as Borough President succeeding Frank L. Dowling, will resign at once. It is more than likely that Michael F. Loughman, Commissioner of Public Works, will be permitted to act as Borough President for the remainder of the year.

Starting as a certified public accountant Mr. Boyle served for twelve years in the office of the Commissioner of Accounts. When John Purroy Mitchell was Commissioner of Accounts he made Mr. Boyle chief of staff and later took him to the office of the President of the Board of Aldermen. For a time Mr. Boyle was head of the transit bureau of the Public Service Commission, and then served as President of the Board of Elections for three years. He was appointed from there to the Municipal Court bench by Mayor Mitchell and was elected to a full term of ten years the following November.

Mr. Boyle is chairman of the Tammany general committee and is co-leader with Charles F. Murphy of the Twelfth Assembly district.

It is believed that Gov. Smith will name Justice Robert L. Luce of the Supreme Court, who will give way to Philip J. McCook on the first of the year, as a Judge of the Court of Appeals to take the place of Judge William H. Cuddeback of Buffalo.

The other notable lame duck as a result of the election of a week ago, Robert L. Moran, President of the Board of Aldermen, according to report, will be fixed up with an appointment as County Clerk of The Bronx to succeed Joseph M. Callahan, elected to the City Court.

5TH AV. ASSOCIATION SEEKS 500 RECRUITS

Luncheon Starts Campaign for New Members.

Teams were organized and plans otherwise perfected at a luncheon at the Fifth Avenue Association yesterday by which the Fifth Avenue Association hopes to add at least 500 new members to its membership roll before the end of the week. Forty-six new memberships were obtained after the luncheon as a result of direct appeals by John H. Towne, chairman of the board of directors, and Capt. William J. Pedrick, Jr., assistant secretary of the organization.

The teams which will go after recruits for the organization began work yesterday afternoon and will report daily at the association's headquarters, 543 Fifth avenue.

Membership, it was announced by Chairman Towne, is in no way confined to business houses located on Fifth avenue, but is open to representatives of every business organization and a particular appeal is to be made to business houses whose interests lie in adjacent streets.

Chairman Towne said yesterday that the Fifth Avenue Association would continue its efforts toward the widening of Madison avenue between Twenty-sixth and Sixty-first streets which, he said, was in line with the general program of relieving congestion on Fifth avenue by widening the cross-town streets.

STRIKING LABORERS RIOT.

Halt Work at H. W. Johns-Manville Plant—Ten Held.

Striking laborers stopped operations yesterday at the plant of the H. W. Johns-Manville Company at Manville, two miles from Somerville, N. J. The strikers picketed the roads leading to the plant and prevented workers from entering. Manville sprang up in the boom days of the automobile industry and was the scene of a strike last winter when the strikers numbered 2,000. They ask an eight hour day, with pay the same as at present for ten hours.

ASTRONOMER GETS MEDAL.

Henry Draper Gold Award Goes to Alfred Fowler.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 10.—For eminence in investigating the stars, the Henry Draper gold medal was awarded to Alfred Fowler, F. R. S., professor of astronomy at the University of Cambridge, England, at today's session of the National Academy of Sciences. The annual convention began yesterday with three score scientists of world reputation present. The business sessions are in Yale Observatory Laboratories.

At a dinner to-morrow the Daniel Giraud Elliot gold medal and an honorarium will be presented to Dr. C. William Beebe, curator of birds at the New York Zoological Park, for a monograph on pheasants.

TRAVIS WARNS WEST ENDERS.

Comptroller Tells Association of Growing Tax Danger.

A warning that State expenditures must be curbed if business is not to be menaced by their constant increase, was given by State Comptroller Travis, who spoke before the West End Association last night. He declared that the cost of government had increased 200 per cent in the last decade, while the State's revenue had grown but 84 per cent in the same time.

"With the new State income tax measure it will be so easy to increase the rate and obtain a few millions more revenue that unless some systematic method of curtailing expenditures be adopted, our present $96,000,000 budget, which promises to exceed $100,000,000 next year, will soon prove inadequate to satisfy the claims for the increases urged," said Mr. Travis.

REPUBLICANS ADMIT WOMEN AS EQUALS

Full Representation Provided at Meeting of National Committee Members.

MEETING SET FOR DEC. 10

Miss Hay Made Chairman of Executive Committee for the Gentler Sex.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—A formal call will be issued to-morrow by Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, for a meeting of the committee in Washington December 10 to fix the date and place for the national convention in 1920. This information followed an informal session of twenty-five members of the committee.

A detailed plan of organization which was provided for full participation of women in the future affairs of the party was adopted to-day. The plan was recommended by the Republican National Women's Executive Committee, of which Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, California, was chairman, appointed a year ago to work out a practical method by which women could take an active part in the party management.

In putting this plan into effect the committee created to-day a woman's division of the Republican national committee and elected Mrs. John G. South of Frankfort, Ky., chairman. Three men of which will be the active head of the woman's division, a daughter of the late Senator William O. Bradley of Kentucky.

The Republican National Committee in announcing the adoption of the plan for the participation of women in party affairs issued a statement which read in part:

"It is the very earnest purpose of the Republican national organization to do all that can possibly be done to make certain the full participation by the Republican women of the country in the party's affairs.

"The Republican women, coming more and more into the rights of their full citizenship, are most important factors in the situation. They are part of the party membership, not as women, but as voters entitled to participate, and participating in so far as the present legal limitations permit just as other voters.

Admitted to Full Fellowship.

"Their activity is not supplementary, ancillary or secondary at all. They are not to be separated or segregated, but assimilated and amalgamated with the men in the party, and the Republican National Committee is sure that the Republican women will come into the party's activities with that sense of responsibility which necessarily follows these activities and will aid, through the party, in the solution of the problems facing the country."

It was said that the fight for the next Republican National Convention would be among Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City, although Cleveland, Minneapolis and San Francisco also are mentioned.

Those present at the session to-day were Chairman Hays, Secretary James B. Reynolds, Mr. W. Upham, treasurer, Governor-elect Morrow and C. H. Sawyer, campaign chairman of the State committee of Kentucky, and the following members of the national committee: C. B. Warren, Michigan; R. E. Hyndley, Ohio; Fred Stanley, Kansas; Jacob L. Babier, Missouri; John T. Adams, Iowa; A. T. Hart, Kentucky; E. B. Callahan, District of Columbia; H. F. McGee, Texas; John T. King, Connecticut; J. B. Keelover, proxy for J. A. Homeny, Indiana; Roscoe Pickett, proxy for H. S. Jackson, Georgia; Charles Moos, proxy for Senator F. B. Kellogg, Minnesota; and J. S. Beesly, proxy for J. M. Littleton, Tennessee.

The names of Major-General Leonard Wood and Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois were most frequently mentioned as candidates for the Republican nomination for President in common gossip of committee-men.

CHEAPER MILK PLAN FAILS TO APPEAR

Copeland Disappointed, but Dealers Demand Until Wednesday for Report.

STROME IS QUESTIONED

Says Farmer Would Be Satisfied With 8 Cents—Attacks Dairy League.

The big milk distributing companies didn't let yesterday with the Fair Price Milk Committee plans for a rearrangement of the entire milk distributing system of the city by means of which a reduction in the price of milk to the consumer would be brought about. Health Commissioner Royal C. Copeland, chairman of the committee, expected to receive the suggestions, in accordance with his request at last Friday's session, and was disappointed.

Loton Horton, president of Sheffield Farms, explained he didn't understand he had agreed to put in a plan yesterday. I. Eklus Nathans, secretary of the New York Milk Conference Board, said the matter of the request had been referred to the committee.

"I can't imagine that the distributors are going to stand on technical grounds," said Dr. Copeland.

"There is no disposition of anybody to stand on a technicality," Mr. Nathans replied. "We ought to have time to present a comprehensive, not a half baked plan."

"Just because this matter has been investigated, and no conclusion ever reached, is no reason to believe this committee is not going to try to find a way for getting cheaper milk," Dr. Copeland said.

You asked us on Friday for suggestions," Mr. Nathans said, "and expected them to-day. It was impossible to offer a comprehensive suggestion. It is not unreasonable to ask you to give us until Wednesday."

Mr. DuBois declared of the Dairyman's League, had a carefully prepared written plan "for getting milk for less," and the chairman asked him to leave it with the committee.

Mark A. DuBois, editor of the Poughkeepsie Courier, the first witness, suggested that the Department of Health should have a bureau on food economics.

Mr. DuBois declared farmers are of the opinion the price they are getting for their November milk is too low.

William A. Levy, secretary of the Levy Dairy Company, said farmers' reason for a cut in the price of milk now, and costs of handling, freight, pasteurization, etc., brings the cost of delivery up to 11 cents. His company sells to the stores by the can at 12 cents and to restaurants at 13 cents, he gets 14 cents for Grade B bottled and 15 cents for Grade A bottled.

The committee devoted most of its time to questioning Neil H. Strome of Walden, a member of the New York State Milk Producers' Association, who said he hasn't produced any milk for the market for a year because the business isn't profitable.

"The farmer would be satisfied if he got 8 cents a quart for his milk," Mr. Strome said. "He's getting only 7 cents for 3 per cent milk now."

Mr. Strome made a savage attack on officials of the Dairyman's League.

Mr. DuBois declared farmers are of the opinion the price they are getting for their November milk is too low.

William A. Levy, secretary of the Levy Dairy Company, said farmers' reason for a cut in the price of milk now, and costs of handling, freight, pasteurization, etc., brings the cost of delivery up to 11 cents. His company sells to the stores by the can at 12 cents and to restaurants at 13 cents, he gets 14 cents for Grade B bottled and 15 cents for Grade A bottled.

The committee devoted most of its time to questioning Neil H. Strome of Walden, a member of the New York State Milk Producers' Association, who said he hasn't produced any milk for the market for a year because the business isn't profitable.

"The farmer would be satisfied if he got 8 cents a quart for his milk," Mr. Strome said. "He's getting only 7 cents for 3 per cent milk now."

Mr. Strome made a savage attack on officials of the Dairyman's League.

Mr. DuBois declared farmers are of the opinion the price they are getting for their November milk is too low.

William A. Levy, secretary of the Levy Dairy Company, said farmers' reason for a cut in the price of milk now, and costs of handling, freight, pasteurization, etc., brings the cost of delivery up to 11 cents. His company sells to the stores by the can at 12 cents and to restaurants at 13 cents, he gets 14 cents for Grade B bottled and 15 cents for Grade A bottled.

The committee devoted most of its time to questioning Neil H. Strome of Walden, a member of the New York State Milk Producers' Association, who said he hasn't produced any milk for the market for a year because the business isn't profitable.

"The farmer would be satisfied if he got 8 cents a quart for his milk," Mr. Strome said. "He's getting only 7 cents for 3 per cent milk now."

Mr. Strome made a savage attack on officials of the Dairyman's League.

Mr. DuBois declared farmers are of the opinion the price they are getting for their November milk is too low.

CHEAPER MILK PLAN FAILS TO APPEAR

Copeland Disappointed, but Dealers Demand Until Wednesday for Report.

STROME IS QUESTIONED

Says Farmer Would Be Satisfied With 8 Cents—Attacks Dairy League.

The big milk distributing companies didn't let yesterday with the Fair Price Milk Committee plans for a rearrangement of the entire milk distributing system of the city by means of which a reduction in the price of milk to the consumer would be brought about. Health Commissioner Royal C. Copeland, chairman of the committee, expected to receive the suggestions, in accordance with his request at last Friday's session, and was disappointed.

Loton Horton, president of Sheffield Farms, explained he didn't understand he had agreed to put in a plan yesterday. I. Eklus Nathans, secretary of the New York Milk Conference Board, said the matter of the request had been referred to the committee.

"I can't imagine that the distributors are going to stand on technical grounds," said Dr. Copeland.

"There is no disposition of anybody to stand on a technicality," Mr. Nathans replied. "We ought to have time to present a comprehensive, not a half baked plan."

"Just because this matter has been investigated, and no conclusion ever reached, is no reason to believe this committee is not going to try to find a way for getting cheaper milk," Dr. Copeland said.

You asked us on Friday for suggestions," Mr. Nathans said, "and expected them to-day. It was impossible to offer a comprehensive suggestion. It is not unreasonable to ask you to give us until Wednesday."

Mr. DuBois declared of the Dairyman's League, had a carefully prepared written plan "for getting milk for less," and the chairman asked him to leave it with the committee.

Mark A. DuBois, editor of the Poughkeepsie Courier, the first witness, suggested that the Department of Health should have a bureau on food economics.

Mr. DuBois declared farmers are of the opinion the price they are getting for their November milk is too low.

William A. Levy, secretary of the Levy Dairy Company, said farmers' reason for a cut in the price of milk now, and costs of handling, freight, pasteurization, etc., brings the cost of delivery up to 11 cents. His company sells to the stores by the can at 12 cents and to restaurants at 13 cents, he gets 14 cents for Grade B bottled and 15 cents for Grade A bottled.

The committee devoted most of its time to questioning Neil H. Strome of Walden, a member of the New York State Milk Producers' Association, who said he hasn't produced any milk for the market for a year because the business isn't profitable.

"The farmer would be satisfied if he got 8 cents a quart for his milk," Mr. Strome said. "He's getting only 7 cents for 3 per cent milk now."

Mr. Strome made a savage attack on officials of the Dairyman's League.

Mr. DuBois declared farmers are of the opinion the price they are getting for their November milk is too low.

William A. Levy, secretary of the Levy Dairy Company, said farmers' reason for a cut in the price of milk now, and costs of handling, freight, pasteurization, etc., brings the cost of delivery up to 11 cents. His company sells to the stores by the can at 12 cents and to restaurants at 13 cents, he gets 14 cents for Grade B bottled and 15 cents for Grade A bottled.

The committee devoted most of its time to questioning Neil H. Strome of Walden, a member of the New York State Milk Producers' Association, who said he hasn't produced any milk for the market for a year because the business isn't profitable.

"The farmer would be satisfied if he got 8 cents a quart for his milk," Mr. Strome said. "He's getting only 7 cents for 3 per cent milk now."

Mr. Strome made a savage attack on officials of the Dairyman's League.

Mr. DuBois declared farmers are of the opinion the price they are getting for their November milk is too low.

William A. Levy, secretary of the Levy Dairy Company, said farmers' reason for a cut in the price of milk now, and costs of handling, freight, pasteurization, etc., brings the cost of delivery up to 11 cents. His company sells to the stores by the can at 12 cents and to restaurants at 13 cents, he gets 14 cents for Grade B bottled and 15 cents for Grade A bottled.

The committee devoted most of its time to questioning Neil H. Strome of Walden, a member of the New York State Milk Producers' Association, who said he hasn't produced any milk for the market for a year because the business isn't profitable.

"The farmer would be satisfied if he got 8 cents a quart for his milk," Mr. Strome said. "He's getting only 7 cents for 3 per cent milk now."

Mr. Strome made a savage attack on officials of the Dairyman's League.

Mr. DuBois declared farmers are of the opinion the price they are getting for their November milk is too low.

COURT CALENDARS

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS.

Second Circuit.

Before Ward, Rogers, Hough and Manton, JJ.

General calendar: R. O. Fox v. R. O. Fox. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

COURT CALENDARS

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS.

Second Circuit.

Before Ward, Rogers, Hough and Manton, JJ.

General calendar: R. O. Fox v. R. O. Fox. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.

Imperial Co. v. Imperial Co. Appeal from the District Court of the Southern District of New York.